Masonic Funeral

Last Tuesday a most impressive Masonic Funeral was held in Bow Island of the late Dr. J.H. Paterson, people coming in from all outlying districts to pay their last respects to the dead.

The announcement of the death of Doctor J.H. Paterson was a great shock to the people of this district as only a few knew he was undergoing an operation. The Doctor had been suffering for a long time but with his characteristic patience and fortitude he had hidden his suffering; the doctor was really a martyr to his profession, particularly since his own serious illness and loss of his wife eighteen months ago.

That the Doctor's life and work among the people was appreciated and was clearly shown by the signs of bereavement and sympathy. The funeral was attended not only by a majority of the people of the district but also by people from Medicine Hat, Taber and other outside points. A large number attended from Burdett and Grassy Lake.

The many beautiful flowers arranged in Emblems, Wreaths and Sprays expressed in a measure the place the Doctor held in the hearts of his friends. Dr. John Harwood Paterson was born in Almonte Ontario and was in his 45th year. He was a graduate of McGill's University, Class 1909, coming to Bow Island in the latter part of that year after spending part of the year at Strathmore, Alberta and has resided here in Bow Island ever since. On New Year's Day 1915 he married Miss R. Reid of Port Dalhousie, Ontario; she was a sister of Mrs. R.A.S. MacLaren who lived in Bow Island; after almost three years of married life he suffered the loss of his beloved wife who died in November 1918. There were no children. The Doctor's surviving family consists of four brothers, Thomas R. and George William of Almonte Ont. and Robert M. of Lonsdale, Sask.

Mr. Robert M. Paterson on behalf of himself and family wish to extend their sincere thanks to all friends and the entire community, especially to the Masonic Brotherhood, for the sincere sympathy extended and also the assistance given them in their bereavement.

For Canadians to Consider

The national debt of Canada has now reached a figure of approximately $3,000,000,000. This is the gross debt. The net debt, that is after deduction of assets has been made, is now around $2,000,000,000. It must be borne in mind, however, that many items included in the statement of assets are not such in the recognized commercial meaning of the term; in fact, no considerable portion of what are termed assets are, for the time being at least, more in the nature of liabilities. For example, Canada has some hundreds of millions of dollars invested in the National Railways, and the latter are regarded as an asset, but as a matter of fact, it is common knowledge these railways are not earning operating expenses, not to mention interest on the capital invested in them. Consequently, in casting up the national balance sheet, the people must be taxed to meet both operating and interest payments, the whole interest only on the money invested in, and the stocks, bonds and debentures outstanding against their railways.

For the current year it is estimated that no less a sum than $350,000,000 will be required to meet ordinary expenditures, and a further substantial addition must be made to the national debt to cover certain capital expenditures to which the country is already committed and which cannot be avoided.

Of this $350,000,000, about $125,000,000 will be eaten up as interest on the public debt. In the neighborhood of $50,000,000 will be required to cover operating deficits and interest payments on account of the national railways. Thus these two items alone will dispose of one-half of the entire revenue.

Out of the remaining $175,000,000 some tens of millions must be paid in pensions, vocational training for soldiers, hospital accommodation and treatment for soldiers, and in various forms of soldiers' civil re-establishment work. Some millions are to be spent in grants on a population basis to the provinces for highway construction; a few millions will be used to meet the deficit in the operation of the post office department; and all the expenses of government, including the Civil Service, administration of justice, militia and police establishment, subsidies to the provinces, and all the multiplicity of services deriving upon the Federal Government must be met.

The people of Canada, who are the taxpayers, and who must bear the burden of providing the money to meet all these obligations, must seriously consider the national situation, and especially so at times when they may be inclined to give additional expenditures of one kind or another for very laudable and even necessary purposes. Canada must, however, curtail its expenditures to a point where it can be covered by the revenue. This country cannot continue to be borrowed money and by going still deeper into debt. There must be national as well as individual retrenchment. Instead of getting deeper into debt, the time approaches when we must agree to still heavier taxation in order to begin the process of liquidating the national debt, as it is now being done in Great Britain.

There is nothing in the national situation, however, to despair over at become pessimistic about. Canada has the resources and the energy and the ability to meet all its obligations, provided with its development, and add to the wealth, prosperity and happiness of its people. But it cannot be accomplished by continual criticism, by looking to feet down existing institutions in order to apply a lot of untried theories and untested methods. The world, Canada included, has had enough of destruction within the past few years. What is now necessary is constructive enterprise, and that can only be brought about by work, and by people generally realizing that it is impossible to get something for nothing; that, on the contrary, the present tendency of most people to be slackers at their job, to insist upon double the wages formerly received in return for about half as much labor and effort on their part, must be abandoned.

Hard work is in sight for most of us. If we do not make up our minds to undertake such work now, we have to do it later, and produce to the maximum of our powers in whatever occupation we may be engaged, at the same time cutting out luxuries, and saving the last possible dollar—well, we are, but slightly delaying the time when the dire force of necessity will compel us to do these things, and the longer the delay before doing what we ought to do, the greater the loss and the more severe the penalty will be. If we don't eliminate luxuries and save now; if we still think we can produce less and consume more; if we continue to delude ourselves that we can indefinitely continue to receive double pay for half as much work, nothing can prevent hard times. If such times come as a result of our folly, we will not only do without luxuries, but may find ourselves hurried to obtain necessities.

There is only one solution, in Canada as elsewhere. It is not theorizing. It is work—hard, practical, productive work.

National Research Institute

Institution Would Meet The Requirement for Developing the Natural Resources

Plans for the establishment of a national research institute for Canada, were before the commons committee on scientific research recently. It was recommended that a site of at least 5 acres should be secured near Ottawa for the building of laboratory type four stories in height, to cost $500,000 to be erected.

The scientific instruments required would cost approximately $100,000 and salaries would require about $100,000 per annum.

This institute would be similar to the bureau of standards at Washington and the Mellon institute at Pittsburgh. It was felt that such an institution would meet the most pressing requirements for developing natural resources and make provision for assistance to Canadian industries.

A bill covering the establishment of such an institution is to be drafted by a sub-committee composed of Dr. S. S. Steele, Dr. Thompson (Vancouver) and Dr. R. J. Manion (Port Williams) who will report back to the committee.

Demand for Men Better

34,400 Workers Were Placed During Month of March

The employment situation in Canada is improving, according to figures published in the Labor Gazette for April. The employment service connected with the department of labor placed altogether 34,400 people in employment during the month of March and received 41,700 applications for employment. The department was notified of 36,200 vacancies. All these figures represent an increase over the previous month and the previous year. There was a steady increase in employment in all provinces and territories, whereas a decline was reported in the west.

There was less loss of time due to strikes in March, 22 strikes were reported, involving 3,789 people and representing a loss of 43,169 working days. At the end of the month, Reports were received from five conciliation boards and applications were received for five more. Two boards were appointed in addition to these on application received previously.

A Satisfied Farmer

This Country Cannot be Better For Mixed Farming

I have lived in the Kilkenny district for fourteen years, and have a half section under cultivation, and have farmed ever since coming to the country, and have grown wheat, oats, barley and flax. What has yielded from 28 to 31 bushels per acre, oats from 60 to 110 bushels, barley 35 to 45 and flax 15 to 20 bushels per acre. I had a failure the season of 1918 owing to hail, the only hail I have had since coming to the country. I might say that my crop has always graded out over lower than Number Three in the fourteen crops I have harvested. I am well satisfied with the district for grain growing, and I have had at times over one hundred head of cattle. I don't think the country can be better for mixed farming. We have first-class soil, good water, and a good climate, all we need is more and better farmers. (Sgd.) Joseph Gilmore, Kilkenny, Alberta.

For Good Films

Manitoba Taken Lead in Encouraging British and Canadian Sentiment

The Good Films Committee desire to go on record as having heavily in the record with all movements tending to raise the standard of Motion Picture entertainments in Manitoba, with a view to encouraging British and Canadian sentiment and clean ideals of family life.

The committee urge a closer co-operation between the board of cinema and the citizen in order that the public may have a fuller understanding of the wide-spread influence of this universal form of recreation, which is undoubtedly doing much to mould the sentiment of the rising generation.

It is strongly advocated that constantly recurring ideas and suggestions in pictures dealing with seduction and infidelity; shady methods of living; vicious underworld characters and methods of life; sex immorality and the depiction of assault upon women be suppressed.

The lead taken by Manitoba in this connection might well be followed by the other prairie provinces. The education of the moving picture is second only to our newspapers, and it is therefore of paramount importance that pictures depicting only the highest and best ideals should be shown. Let everyone interested themselves in helping to raise the standard of motion picture productions.

Make a Home on the Farm

A Farm Must Be Self-supporting Before a Farmer Can Become a Contented Home-maker

One cause of the present unrest among the farming population in the west is the lack of home times. What do I mean by that? I mean, that the average settler in the semi-arid regions regards himself as a tenant occupant of the land rather than as a permanent fixture—a permanent citizen of the country. As a result of this feeling he has not developed the home-making habit. He intends to get a big crop sometime and sell out to someone from the east. No country can be prosperous until the farmers have a settled determination not only to live in the country but to stay there. A community without graveyard is an uncertain quantity.

The farm home must be self-supporting. The farmer who sells his hogs and buys him and bacon, who sells his cream and buys butter and the farmer who raises cattle and lives on condensed milk, will never become a contented home-maker.

A one-crop system will never develop a contented community. The farmer must first of all be a "nester"—he must be rooted to his farm in so far as he regards it as a home for himself and his family.

A wheat farm will never become a home, neither will a cattle-ranch nor a sheep ranch. A farm home that is sustained by a few cows, hens, hogs, sheep and sufficient of other stock, including goats, to consume the forage the farm will hold a contented family. And without contentment there is no permanence.

Many years have demonstrated the futility of trying to develop a country with one crop. The farmers of the so-called dry farming states have diversified their crops, plant corn, Sudan grass, millet, rye, barley and other crops that can be fed on the place. Then get by any means possible the stock to feed it up and there will be no returning to the homes in the east and middle west. A farm home without chickens and calves, and pigs and lambs, and colts is like a home without children. It is a misfortune for any child to be born and raised on a farm that is not stocked with animal pets.

The farm home must be self-sustaining. We must get back to some of the customs of our fathers when nearly everything that was needed by the family was produced at home; when the family made its own sugar, raised its own honey, killed its meat and made its butter and soap, when the cellar was filled with everything that was good to eat, and the garden with dried fruit. We as farmers may be forced to go back to the days of spinning and weaving to clothe our family, for at the present rate of increase of cost there will be no other way. We must abandon the idea that the farm is a factory and make of it a home where we can live and escape to some degree the privation—we must make a home of the farm.—Scientific Farmer.

Smoke Screens

Secret Used With Great Success By The British Navy

The second of the smoke screen used with such great success by the British Navy in the raids on Ostend and Zeebrugge is distinctly decided. They were produced from an acid which has to be burned in the presence of a sufficient amount of water vapor, otherwise the smoke produced over the sea is liable to be some what thin on dry land.

Commander Brock, who sacrificed his life in the assault on the German defenses at the Belgian ports, devised the plan to feed the acid in a fine spray into the funnel of a destroyer, where the temperature was sufficient to vaporize the acid, and the water vapor present completed the formation of a cloud.

SOUTHERN ALBERTA FARMERS ARE WARNED TO BEWARE OF GRASSHOPPERS THIS YEAR

E. H. Strickland Presses on Board of Trade Need of Early Preventive Measures—Farmers Should Organize—Conditions so Far Ideal for Propagation of the Pest—Governments Being Asked to Help—Local Committee is Named.

Lothbridge district is facing the prospect of a plague of grasshoppers this summer. E. H. Strickland, Dominion entomologist, told members of the board of trade at the noon luncheon Thursday that unless precautions are taken no crop will be harvested next fall in this district.

He pointed out that last summer from Lothbridge to the southwest corner of the province grasshoppers were thick but because the district did not have any crops the farmers did not pay any attention to the pests and there was no damage done. All conditions this spring are ideal for the germination of the eggs, he said, and undoubtedly the ground is now thick with capsules containing their eggs. Each grasshopper able to survive last winter's early start should be good for seventy-five hoppers this spring, he estimated.

The question of a preventive measure is marked with difficulties. The scarcity of feed and the poor situation tends to make the obtaining of a successful poison extremely difficult. He recommended a mixture of bran, molasses and paris green. In regard to bran, he said, investigations he has conducted show that it is very good to get. Horse manure is a good substitute, but very few farmers have any on hand, as they decline to stable their horses in the winter time. Paris green is another part of the mixture that is scarce.

Paris Green Scarce
Manitoba has a corner on the market in the west at the present time, Mr. Strickland said. Learning a lesson from the experiences of the province last year, Manitoba has taken steps to obtain as much of this product as possible with the result that in Alberta, so far as Mr. Strickland can learn, there is only a surplus of one ton, and instructions have been issued to have it ready for shipment to Winnipeg.

Molasses can be obtained from Manitoba at fifty cents a gallon. This product is not good for feed in any form, he stated. Sawdust is an ingredient of another good mixture, and that is out of the question in southern Alberta.

A mixture of horse manure, salt and paris green makes an excellent poison, he said. Salt is attractive to the hopper. In regard to administering the poison, the speaker impressed the gathering with the necessity of co-operation between all farmers. It is necessary that all farmers should act at once. The poison should be distributed in strips across the fields.

Another system used with a certain amount of success by farmers in Saskatchewan last year, the speaker said, was dragging the fields with a tank. A horse was attached to each end and the hoppers jumped into this tank.

The Habits of the Pest
Describing the life history of the hoppers, the speaker stated that they hatch out early in May under usual conditions, but this year the hatching season is likely to be delayed until the middle of May or later. Wet conditions favor the hoppers. As soon as they are hatched the hungry creatures commence feeding on vegetation, and about July get their wings. Until that period they go through the fields in large numbers.

The young hoppers are very susceptible to weather conditions. A frost or two after they hatch weakens them for the killing of many of them. A warm spell during the next two or three weeks will bring about the best conditions possible for the pests.

No provincial entomologist is employed in Alberta and therefore Mr. Strickland is working in co-operation with the province. He said that the aim in bringing this subject to the attention of the provincial department of agriculture and that the Dominion officials have the subject under advisement. At present the entomologist is busy with the feed situation.

Committee Appointed

G. R. Marnoch, president of the board; Peter Lund, E. R. Daniels, W. H. Fairfield and Mr. Strickland were appointed a committee to start the ball rolling in the matter of taking precautionary measures in southern Alberta. A meeting will be held of that committee in the board of trade rooms soon.

Some Sound Advice

Preceding the remarks of Mr. Strickland, Mr. Marnoch gave his thoughts about the weather and how it is affecting crop prospects for this season, and irrigation. He asked the members not to stop talking irrigation just because a wet spring is blessing the farmers.

As far as moisture conditions in the soil and subsoil are concerned the country around Lothbridge is in even better shape than it was at the beginning of 1915, following upon the heavy wet snowstorm in October, 1914 which was the real foundation for the phenomenal crop of 1915.

It is sometimes claimed that the climate of southern Alberta and southern Saskatchewan is unstable, that no one can forecast what is going to happen; but that is a condition of stability in itself, for we know from long experience just that thing, that nobody can forecast what is going to happen.

The usual stories will be going around this spring, that the climate is changing. So it is. It changes every day. Fairly times that it is always going to be wet now, and that we do not need irrigation. Old-timers and a whole lot of us are getting to be old timers now, know better, and

But we want another kind of stability than that to which I have referred. Starting into the business in 1914 nearly all our grain farmers had bred up little herds of cattle, which cost them nothing, practically, as they grew upon the roughage around the farm that would otherwise have gone to waste. These herds increased in numbers so gradually, and the feed came so easily, that everybody was caught slack by the lack of the usual feed.

I think the saddest man I have ever seen was a farmer who came in a month or two ago to buy hay, who said he had burned a straw stack so as to get the little piece of ground it was covering put under the plough after the July rains came last year; he made sure that these rains would make him green feed, but they did not. There is the whole situation. We have not learned that we must build up reserves of feed and carry them over from year to year.

The farmers in northern Alberta are learning the same lesson this year; they are discovering now that the climate will beat their best guessing sometimes, and that they were too eager to turn their reserves into ready money, and that although they sold a lot of their cattle there was not enough feed left to carry through those that they kept.

Everything in the hopper season and during this winter has conspired to bring about the situation that we now find ourselves in throughout the whole of this province—that we have even now more cattle to feed than we have feed for. That is split milk, and there's no use crying over it. But what I would like to say is that we should be looking out now to take care that we do not spill any more milk.

No one can say what is going to happen, that's true; but everything seems to point to the forthcoming season landing us in a situation exactly the reverse of last year's—especially in the northern part of the province—and that the province will have far more feed than we shall have cattle to feed it to.

Now about irrigation. They say all the talk about irrigation is what brings the wet weather. Well, in any way that's a less impious way of getting moisture than the volcanic rain maker proposes—that of throwing up bombs at the Almighty to explode in his face, as Paul Kruger is said once to have put it. But it will take quite a few years to get much more land under irrigation, so, if we talk sensibly, and set with good sense, we can go on talking without doing any damage.

It is quite evident from the lateness of the season that there will be a great rush to get the crop in. There is a shortage of labor, quite as evident now as it was at any time during the war. I should like to suggest to every business man that he will be consulting his best business interests if he will do everything possible to help to get the crop in. Ways and means to this end will suggest themselves to each individual, and we should all work to the same end.

Save the surface and you save all about a farm

Add years to the life of your house

TIME was when the "appearance" of a freshly painted house was the only thing that counted, but now we must also realize the importance of the protection good paint affords against wear and tear. Any paint will give some protection, but if you want paint protection for years—not merely months—use

Berlin—Prince Bernhard of the list of those making reservations concerning the outbreak of war by writing a letter to the Fremdenblatt

made by Dr. Theodor von Bethmannthat the declaration of war was inevitable.

Prince von Buelow sketched his long years as chancellor, telling admits that peace was desired by Dr.

however, "lacked political courage."

"During the grave weeks before

London—Details have reached here of the murder by Bolsheviks of Haddad, the Persian commander at Amravati, Armenia, together with 210 Persian soldiers whom

270 were Mohammedans and forty Christians.

When the volunteer army concentra-

the reports, the Bolsheviks killed

Haddad, shot him down and mutilated his body with swords and bayonets. The Bolsheviks then gathered together all the Persians who had taken shelter under the protection of the Persian flag, and shot them en masse with machine-guns and buried them, partly in the consular cemetery and partly in a common pit.

Monument In A School Yard

A Figure of Young Infantry Done in Fine Granite

Looking out over grain fields and meadow in one of the best agricultural districts of Huron County, Ontario, is a figure of a young infantry man, done in fine granite. The figure surmounts a base, also of stone, and altogether it is a highly creditable art work. Inscribed on the base of the monument are the names of the young farmers of the district, who gave their lives in the nation's defense in the great war, and also those who enlisted, and those who were wounded. What makes the monument more striking is the fact that it stands in the corner of a school yard. The three young men whose lives were sacrificed in the war were once scholars in the little white brick schoolhouse. They were the sons of farmers in the neighborhood.

They played and studied and worked by turns. Their schoolmates, many of them, are still there. The homes from which they went, and in which there is a vacant chair, are representative homes.—London Free Press.

France's Forests To Be Restored Quickly

Wherever There Was a Forest Before There Is to Be a New Forest

Now France is confronted with the problem of restoration. And she is going about the work in the most systematic French manner.

When it was a question of a war to be won the French gave their lives and fortunes without question and without regret. Now that the war has been won they are displaying the same spirit in the work of forest restoration. Wherever there was a forest before the war there is to be a new forest. The French may be mercantile and Government, but when it comes to a matter of the mother-land's welfare there is no more practical person on the surface of the earth. From French forestry and from French foresting America will learn a lesson. Not only to replace the damages of war, but also to compensate for the forests of American industry, America should have an eye to the future. Where forests have been destroyed new forests should be planted and reared under the eye of the government. Conservation is coming to be an accepted goal, and at present restoration may be even more important than conservation.—

Ottawa—A conference on the

Weighing Grain

Sir George Foster Says Government's Attention Had Not Been Called to Elevators

In the House of Commons Sir Geo. Foster said J. P. Mulvey, of Vancouver, that the government was not aware of any general dissatisfaction among grain growers and elevator terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur.

Individual complaints were received from time to time and these have been investigated. The board of grain commissioners had received the statement from one of the largest shippers of grain from Western Canada, to the head of the lakes. This statement said that the out-turn from this shipper's cars at Fort William and Port Arthur elevators were 100 percent satisfactory.

Sir George stated that the only thing in the nature of a general complaint received by the board of grain commissioners was raised by the order of grain buyers. This was fully investigated in January last. While this complaint touched on the matter of weight at the head of the lakes, it was mainly a question of shortage of bonds, as applied to country buyers, that furnished the chief grounds of complaint.

German-Irish Parallel

Both Suffering From Their Own Revolutionary Misdemeanors

Ireland and Germany are both suffering from their own revolutionary misdemeanors. Both need a strong hand, if they are not—the result of the new state of the Irish situation arising out of the Cork murders—to land themselves in the predicament of Russia, under Bolshevism. In Russia over 30,000 people have met their death since August, 1914, and about 200,000 of these have lost their lives through the famine.

In Ireland there is a similar condition of affairs, similar, but on a smaller scale, to that existing in Germany and Russia, yet there is no excuse for after-war revolution in Ireland. Ireland has profited more than any other country between 1914 and today.

Canada's Population Nine Million

Next Census Likely to Show A Population of Considerably Over Nine Million

Canada's next census is likely to show a population of the Dominion of over nine million people. Figures recently published and based on departmental estimates, gave the population of the Dominion as 8,835,102.

While these estimates in the past have proven approximately correct, it is to be pointed out that they covered a period which ended on March 31, 1919, nearly a year ago.

There has been a great influx of people to Canada.

The major portion of Canada's overseas forces has returned to Canada since that date, and immigration from Great Britain, which languished during the war years, has revived to a considerable extent.

There has also been a considerable immigration from the United States. With the return of such a large portion of the male population from overseas the natural increase has been increased in excess of the period from 1914 to 1919.

With all these factors considered, it is not surprising that the population of the Dominion is now estimated to be 9,000,000.

Immigration Of Children to Canada

The Migration of Children From Orphanages to the Dominion

The Manchester Guardian, commenting on the report of the Canadian Government's inspector of British immigrant children, expresses gratification that the migration of children from orphanages to the Dominion appears shortly to be resumed.

Since 1916 this migration has practically suspended, the report shows.

The paper outlines the unusual opportunities offered in Canada, both in industry and agriculture, and points to the increased number of children now in institutions as a result of the war as an argument for again opening the gates of Canada to the youthful immigrant.

More than ten thousand applications for children have been received by the child-saving institutions in England since the annual migration was suspended. Many of these applications are from agricultural districts, it is said, and a large portion of the applicants are children.

Digestive Troubles Cause Distress

But They Are Nearly Always Due To Thin, Watery Blood

Do not think that because your stomach is easily upset you are the victim of some serious malady. One of the most common professions of cases of indigestion is anemia, or thin, watery blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been found to be the best remedy for indigestion, nervous dyspepsia and stomach weakness, just because they are a blood builder and serve to tone up the rich, red blood they make not only imparts a healthy digestion, but carries color to the cheeks and lips and gives vigor to the muscles.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful drugs or opiates and are thus to be preferred to preparations that merely stimulate for a time. Before you begin worrying unnecessarily about your state of health, try the tonic recommended by Dr. Williams. Pink Pills. You will be surprised to see how rapidly your whole system is re-created, your new, rich blood courses through your body.

At the conference several subjects of serious import to the farmers of the province will be discussed by experts who have already promised to attend. Among the subjects will be dairy farming, agricultural credits at a low rate of interest and mutual cooperation between large land owners in assisting to place farmers on the vacant land of the province.

The British Character

Says British Reserve is Really Just "Shyness"

Frederic W. Wyle, American newspaper correspondent, who represented the London Daily Mail, and its associated papers in Germany, addressing the Canadian Club, said that, after 10 years' thinking it over, he had at last begun to understand the British character. Mr. Wyle said that the Americans thought coldness and reserve in the Englishman was really shyness.

Mr. Wyle, who is of Irish descent, said he sympathized with the Irish race, but any deal with the Irish must be a square deal within the British empire. It was a political necessity, he said, that Ireland must remain within the British empire. Great Britain could not give complete territorial independence to Ireland, Mr. Wyle declared.

In after years a self-made man likes to boast about the hard struggle he had on a farm when he was a boy.

One Great Essential To a Woman's Health Is Her Nerves

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long. Instead, of being rich and contented. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when her nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. It is so with many women, who are so busy and so nervous, that they neglect their health. They are so busy and so nervous, that they neglect their health. They are so busy and so nervous, that they neglect their health.

Minard's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mr. E. H. Bryant, a great sufferer from nerve troubles, writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. When I was on my feet and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flashes and cold and gloomy."

Minard's Heart and Nerve Pills began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am now stronger and more energetic than I have been for years. I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. When I was on my feet and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flashes and cold and gloomy."

Indians Protest Against H.C.L.

White Millionaires takes our Food away from us,
says George Matheson

OTTAWA. The high cost of living formed a basis for a vehement argument by the British Columbia Indians today before the committee on the proposed amendments to the Indian Act.

"Our Heavenly Father gave us food long before the white man came, by placing salmon in our rivers. Now the white men millionaires, who can afford better food and want to make a little more money, come and take our food away from us," said George Matheson, of Sadié, B.C.

Indians had been arrested for taking their winter's food supply from the rivers running through their own reserve.

Want Land Restored

A. Matheson along with other braves, declared that the Indians would never be at peace until their land, fishing and hunting rights were fully restored to them. Other matters, such as education and enfranchisement, could wait.

D.C. Scott, deputy minister, sym-pathized with the Indians, but said that other foods had been substituted.
The prohibitory order was necessary to preserve the salmon industry.

Henry Jackson, president of the Grand General Indian Council of Ontario, asked that the bill be set aside to give his association an opportunity to examine it. This closed the evidence and the committee will now sit to consider the actual terms of the bill.

Will Ignore Acts

Peter Calder, a stalwart brave of the Nisga tribe of British Columbia Indians, told the parliamentary committee on Indian act legislation that unless the government looked fully into the land rights and gave satisfactory settlement the members of the band would ignore any new legislation as now proposed. Through an interpreter Calder pleaded with the committee to settle the dispute without the expense or worry of law proceedings. He had learned of this when a boy and after he had gone his children would carry on until the tribe was satisfied.

Calder was unwilling to discuss enfranchisement or educational matters until the land question was settled.

Waiting Their Time

Sir Hall Cairns has been travelling in Europe and his conclusion is that the old aristocrats are hoping to climb back into power by the red path of Bolshevism. In other words they are hating their tags, hoping the nations will wear themselves out in revolution and then to themselves to come back to the old order of things. The wise people are those who will have none of either Bolshevism or the aristocrats. The middle way is the safe way,

McKenzie King

McKenzie King's explanation of his war service and his reasons for not enlisting in a fighting unit are now officially before the people. The liberal leader has presented his case in the best light possible we may be certain. Whether the people will take him at his own valuation on his war service record remains to be seen.
